Check out our recommendations for this collection, selected by our editors! Coronavirus and disability community #HighRiskCOVID19. At the end of February, we published a post in which we described in detail what a coronavirus infection looks like in people with chronic diseases and what the consequences of infection will be. In this post, we talked about what the coronavirus looks like in people with diabetes, cardiovascular disease, asthma, HIV, cancer, and other chronic diseases. At the end of March, we published a post about how healthcare systems will change in the context of the spread of the coronavirus.
