Today there are a lot of gaming genres, from First-Person Shooters to Real Time Strategy to Racing, Simulation, RPG (Role Playing Game), RTS (Real Time Strategy) and many more... But there are only few genres which have a place in gaming history: The Tower Defense Game – still a popular genre, but since a couple of years less popular than before. It's about building a strong defense against new enemy waves and become the last defense against the world. But this strong defense can not just be build with an hammer. So I created this game to play, not only for fun and competition, but also because I really wanted to learn the basics of the building processes in the field of Tower Defense. I am always interested in the question how much can I build for your information. That's why I made a game to show and share these fundamental building skills with you. So why the name "Maastricht-Aachen"? I love the area of Maastricht and Aachen. Maybe this is why I chose these two cities for the cover of my game. They might have both of these positive sides for me. I also had to choose two great cities which have a lot of influence in European history and Art. Maastricht – because of its importance in the Middle Ages in the famous theoderic of the Vandals. And Aachen – because it was the capital of the First Kingdom of the Frankish Empire – and later the German Empire. What does this mean for you? In this game you will get the following features: ● Completely new concept ● 2 game modes, Trainers and Team Mode ● Game mods, which allow you to extend the game with new buildings, tilesets or enemies ● Easy to learn, complex to master ● Great and challenging, so that you will have to work hard to win ● Easy game for beginners, but hard for those who want to play the game a bit harder ● Very long and diverse game (more than 30 hours in the current version) ● Variety of strategies ● Play on different levels – Manual, Bot and Cooperative Game ● Playable in Multiplayer ● Playable both on PC and smartphones ● Build in 2D or 3D view, animated GIFs of buildings or tiles ● Playable in a fully automatic or manual mode ● PC, XBOX, Switch or Mobile for Multiplayer – very easy ● Multiplayer is via c9d1549cdd
